Why Are We Delaying the Start of School for Secondary Students?

The first day back to school, even under 'normal' circumstances, can be very stressful for students, families and staff. We recognize that this year, these feelings may be heightened given our current circumstances and the new health and safety protocols that will be in place as our schools re-open.

Delaying the first day of school by one day will allow staff to rehearse the new health and safety protocols, and adapt their practices to ensure an organized transition for students. It will also facilitate the set-up of the learning management systems and resources for remote learning.

Secondary schools will start in their Week 1 schedule, with all grades (9-12) beginning in Period 1 on Wednesday, September 9th. Cohort A will attend in-school instruction on that day, as per the Sample Weekly Schedule.

Special Education

Students in the self-contained Life Skills classes in our secondary schools will begin in-class instruction at school on Tuesday, September 8 and attend school daily thereafter.
